Summer seminar of interest for ECON students

Freedom Week is a five-day seminar hosted by the Institute for Liberal Studies with a focus on politics, philosophy, economics, and the ideas of a free society. This year's seminar will take place at McGill University from Aug 8-13. All expenses except travel are covered for accepted students.

Over the week students will hear from selected faculty from universities in Canada and the US while engaging in important conversations with other students from across Canada and beyond.

More details on this opportunity, including a list of our faculty speakers, is available at <https://www.liberalstudies.ca/freedom-week/>. The deadline for applications is June 30th.

Smith Certificate in Business

Interested in adding this to your degree? A few things you need to know.

Curriculum - Students are required to take six introductory Commerce courses, completed in conjunction with an undergraduate degree, to obtain the Certificate. The Certificate is recognized on the final transcript.

- For COMM courses to count towards your ECON plan, ECON option courses are COMM 211 & COMM 221.
- Must be in good academic standing as a degree-seeking undergraduate student and have achieved a minimum of C in any completed COMM 200 level courses.
- As an FAS student, you are allowed 6 units outside of the faculty. No further non-Arts and Science courses will be counted.

For more information, visit the Certificate in Business website.

Unclear of your degree requirements?

Academic Requirements Reports | Queen's University Arts & Science

Understand and interpret your Academic Requirements Report (ARR), available through SOLUS. The Academic Requirements Report is designed to give you advice on what courses you will need to take to complete your degree, as well as warn you if you have broken any of the various rules that govern which courses may be used in a particular degree program.
