

Department of Economics Pathways

Are you an economics student interested in Policy Design and Analysis?

This is one possible pathway through your Economics degree:

Student Name

Student Number

First Year

First Year Economics

First Year Math

First Year Development Studies

DEVS 100

First Year Politics

POLS 110

First Year Computing

Things to think about:

- At the end of first year – request Admission into the Applied Economics Honours plan (APEC-M-BAH).
- Maybe a medial with politics or computing is a better fit?

Second Year

Micro Theory	ECON 212
Macro Theory	ECON 222
Statistics
Math for Economists	ECON 255
Economic History
Tax Policy	ECON 240
Social Policy	ECON 241
Linear Algebra	MATH 111
Data Analytics	CISC 251
Environment and Sustainability	ENSC 103

Things to think about:

- Will the Certificate in Global Action fit into your schedule?
- Get active in the Queen's Environmental Club or the Earth Centre.
- Thinking about going on exchange? Plan to take third year micro, macro, and econometrics at Queen's.

Third Year

Micro Theory	ECON	310
Econometrics	ECON	351
Macro Policy	ECON	223
Macro Theory	ECON	320
Law and Economics	ECON	348
Economics of Regulation	ECON	371
Global Political Economy	GPHY	228
Principles of Sustainability	ENSC	230
Comparative Politics	POLS	242
Intro to Canadian Law	LAW	201

Things to think about:

- Thinking about graduate study in policy design and analysis?
Most application deadlines are before the end of Fall Term. Who will be writing your reference letters?
- Are there extra-curricular activities that will make your application stand out – internships, student newspapers and online media, community engagement, or volunteer activities?
- Get engaged with the John Deutsch Institute (JDI).

Fourth Year

APEC Capstone Project	ECON	499
Public Economics	ECON	440
Cost-Benefit	ECON	437
Micro Policy	ECON	443
Industrial Organization	ECON	445
Employment Law	EMPR	210
Workplace Policies and Governance	EMPR	240
Innovation and Entrepreneurship	ENIN	340
Environmental Policy	ENSC	310
Business and Global Development	DEVS	353

Things to think about:

- Visit your reference letter writers early in Fall Term – bring your CV and transcript – be ready to talk about your post-grad plans.
- You've changed your mind about policy design and analysis? Look into Masters Programs in Economics, Development, or Environmental Studies.